Co-operative Party Rules

Scope of the Rules and their interpretation

1. The Rules of the Party are made by the National Executive Committee (NEC) and endorsed by Annual Conference. The Rules apply to all members and to all units of the Party.
2. These rules do not replace the registered rules of Co-operative Party Ltd (also known as the Constitution) and must at all times be consistent with the registered rules. In the event of any inconsistency, the registered Rules of the Co-operative Party Ltd. will apply
3. Party organisations may amend their constitutions, so long as such amendments do not contravene the provisions contained in these Rules, and they must be submitted to the NEC for approval.
4. The decision of the NEC on how the rules and procedures, including the rules of party units, should be interpreted will be final.
5. For the purpose of these rules and procedures, 'members' refers to individual Co-operative Party members.

Membership Conditions

6. It is a condition of membership that each individual member must also be a member of a recognised co-operative as determined by the National Executive Committee (NEC) of the Co-operative Party.
7. Members shall pay the annual membership subscription as approved by the National Annual Conference of the Party. An individual member shall be deemed to have lapsed from membership if they have failed to renew their membership within 12 months of the membership subscription falling due.
8. Members must be at least 14 years of age.
9. Members shall sign a declaration as follows:

I declare myself a Co-operator. I agree to accept the rules and to promote the policy and values of

10. A member of the Party who stands for election - or acts as the election agent to a person standing for election - in opposition to a Labour Candidate will automatically be ineligible to be, or to remain, a Party member or to join the Party for a period of five years following the election.
11. A member of the Party may not join or support a political organisation in opposition to an official Labour Group or other unit of the Labour Party. This may render them ineligible to become, or remain, a member of the Co-operative Party.
12. Members of the Co-operative Party who are selected and/or elected to stand as Labour or Labour & Co-operative candidates to any level of public office are required within these rules to abide by the rules and procedures of the Labour Party. If subject to investigation or disciplinary action by the Labour Party, they may be suspended from representing or from membership of the Co-operative Party until the Labour Party disciplinary action has concluded.
13. To be and to remain eligible for membership, each individual member must also:
 - a) Accept and conform to the rules, principles and policy of the Party.
 - b) Normally be a member at the address where they are registered as an elector unless having recently moved, temporarily resident abroad or otherwise prevented from being registered, in which case they must be resident at the address recorded for membership purposes. 15. The NEC may rescind endorsement as a full Party member when evidence is provided that the individual concerned is not on the electoral register and is therefore (subject to the provisions above) ineligible for membership.
16. No member of the Party shall engage in a course of conduct prejudicial, or in any act grossly detrimental, to the Party. Such conduct shall also be deemed to include harassment, abuse or discrimination against groups and/or individuals based on age, disability, gender reassignment, marital or civil partnership status, race, pregnancy and maternity, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation. Such an action may render them ineligible to be or to remain a member of the Co-operative Party. Any dispute as to whether a member or applicant is or has been in breach of this provision shall be determined by the NEC.

17. Where a member has been convicted of a serious criminal offence or the subject of a serious ruling from HM Courts and Tribunals Service or Council Standards Board, the NEC shall have the right to impose the appropriate disciplinary action.
18. The NEC or CPDC may consider the member's financial support to, organisation or promotion of and/or involvement in:

Where the rules do not meet the particular circumstances, the NEC may have regard to national or local custom and practice as the case may require. The NEC's decisions shall be final and binding on all organisations and individuals concerned.

25. Party meetings and events shall be conducted in a friendly and orderly manner and organised in such a way as to maximise participation for members and so that no member shall be precluded from attendance because they cannot gain access to the meeting place for any reason.

10. Each such panel shall elect a Chair as occasion requires it. Each such panel will consist of members from regions other than the source of the dispute. If a member of such a panel is unable to attend a hearing, the Chair of the CPDC may appoint another member of the CPDC to the panel as a replacement.
11. The CPDC or any panel thereof shall meet at such time and such place as it thinks fit, having regard to the convenience of the individual concerned, the members of the CPDC or panel, any witnesses, the effective and proper conduct of any hearing, and cost.
12. The CPDC or any panel thereof in hearing and determining charges against an individual shall have regard to the Disciplinary Rules. The CPDC shall have the power to supplement such guidelines from time to time and to modify its procedures in order to meet the circumstances of any particular case to ensure fairness to both the individual and the Party.
13. The CPDC shall have the right to dismiss, without full hearing or at any point, any case presented to it or the panel appointed to hear the case it considers by a majority vote to be frivolous, vexatious, an abuse of the process of the CPDC, or where it considers no case to answer has been established.
14. The CPDC can refuse to hear or deal with any case referred to it if such referral is more than 90 days after the events to which it relates.

Election of the Co-operative Party Disciplinary Committee (CPDC)

1. The CPDC shall consist of twenty-two members of the Party: two each from Scotland & NI (combined), Wales and the nine English regions, each of whom has been a member of the Party for a continuous period of not less than five years.

10. Nominees must agree to undergo appropriate training if and as necessary
11. Any vacancy that occurs amongst members of the CPDC during the period of office shall be filled by ballot as soon as practicable after the vacancy arises. The person thus elected will be eligible for re-election at the conclusion of the original term of the member who gave rise to the vacancy.
12. The NEC may co-opt up to four additional members to the Committee, if it deems necessary, to address issues of under-representation. Such co-optees shall meet the same criteria for eligibility as elected members of the CPDC.

2. They will be asked to provide a written statement and, if relevant, witness statements or other supporting evidence with 28 days.
3. They will be required to inform the Secretary of the CPDC within 14 days if they wish to contest the charge and that, if they do not wish to contest the charge or fail to respond, the CPDC may proceed with the case and impose the appropriate sanction.

Appeals to cases determined by the NEC:

4. Each individual should be contacted by letter and email with the charge and full details of the evidence.

5. They will be asked to provide a written statement and, if relevant, witness statements or other supporting evidence with 28 days.

Witnesses

6. Should any individual wish to apply to the CPDC for it to hear the oral evidence of witnesses on their behalf, they should apply in writing no later than 14 days before the date of the hearing; and the CPDC should consider as soon as practicable after the application is made, but in any event no later than four days before the date of the hearing, whether fairness to the individual requires that this should be approved, having regard to the following:
 - a) The reasons given in support of the application
 - b) The relevant evidence that the witnesses are said to have to give.
 - c) The evidence already given in writing by the individual making the application
 - d) Whether that individual has taken the opportunity to submit a witness statement containing the evidence of the witness whom the individual is now applying to be heard orally.
 - e) The content of any such witness statement and any other considerations that appear to the CPDC to be relevant to determining whether fairness to the individual requires that any witness the subject of such an application be heard by the CPDC.

Accompanying Friend

7. Any individual charged should have a right at the hearing concerning them to be accompanied by a member of the Party of their choice, who may not address the CPDC in the course of the proceedings.

Representation

8. Any individual charged shall have a right to be represented by their advocate of choice, but any costs incurred by this advocacy shall be borne by the individual charged and not by the Party.

The procedure for each individual should be as follows:

9. Meetings and hearings of the CPDC shall take place by video conference wherever practical
10. The panel shall consist of five members of the CPDC who shall not represent the same nation or region as the member(s) charged or complainant(s).
11. The panel shall consist of at least two men and two women.
12. Each member of the CPDC or any panel thereof should have, prior to the hearing, before them, separately for each individual charged, the charge or charges together with any written statement by that individual and any witness statements supplied by that individual or to be relied upon by the presenter.

13. Each individual's case should be dealt with separately, except where the same charges are being brought by an organisation and the individuals concerned have agreed to be heard collectively.
14. At the conclusion of the hearing of the case against each individual, the hearing against the next individual should proceed as a separate hearing.

Process

15. The investigating officer should open and present the charge by making a short oral presentation explaining the particulars and evidence relied upon and calling any witnesses in support of the case.
16. After opening and presenting the charge or charges the panel should invite the individual(s) to reply, which they may do in writing, orally, or both and by calling witnesses to give evidence in accordance with the ruling on the application referred to above.
17. The individual charged and any witnesses may be subject to questions from any member of the CPDC, relating to the charges as particularised and on no other matters.
18. The individual charged shall be given the opportunity to make a further statement at the end of the hearing of the charge, during which neither shall introduce any new material.
19. At the conclusion of the hearing for each individual there should be a period for consideration by the CPDC followed by a vote on the question whether the charge or charges or any of them be found proved. Such question to be determined, if need be, by a simple majority vote.
20. If the CPDC finds the charge, or any of the charges, to be proved then the meeting should reconvene. The individuals should be informed and invited to address the CPDC (orally, in writing, or both) by way of mitigation on the disciplinary action to be taken against them.
21. Before addressing the CPDC the individual should be informed by the Chair of the meeting that one of the options to be considered may be that of expulsion from the Party. At the conclusion of an address by an individual in mitigation, members of the CPDC may question the individual on that issue.
22. At the conclusion of the address in mitigation and any questions to the individual there shall be a period for further consideration by the CPDC followed by a decision on the disciplinary action to be taken. Such decision shall be taken, if need be, on a simple majority vote.
23. No member of the CPDC or panel thereof may vote on the charge against any individual or on any disciplinary action to be taken unless they have been present for the whole hearing of the charge or charges against that individual and the address in mitigation by that individual or their advocate.

24. The presenter of the case shall not have a vote on the CPDC or any panel thereof nor shall they participate whilst the CPDC is considering the case against any individual or disciplinary action to be taken.
25. Decisions in cases shall be announced by the CPDC or panel thereof as it considers fit and such decisions shall be final.

Election of the Conference Arrangements Committee (CAC)

1. The CAC shall be composed of five people: four elected by ballot to be held at Annual Conference and one member of the NEC, elected by the NEC to represent that body.
2. Notwithstanding casual vacancies, no more than two people will be elected at each Annual Conference.
3. Voting for the CAC will be by one member, one vote by those delegates present and voting.
4. No more than one representative shall be elected from any one Region.
5. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes will serve for three years and the candidate with the next highest vote will serve for one year.

Nomination of Parliamentary Candidates

Official Nominations

1. The first step is for the local Party to obtain NEC approval for the submission of an official nomination.
2. If the NEC agrees to make an official nomination it will appoint a person to be its Representative throughout the procedure. This is likely to be a Co-operative Party member of staff, who will act with the full authority of the NEC.
3. Upon receipt of this approval the local Party Secretary must arrange for the NEC Representative to attend a special meeting of the local Party's Executive Committee to assist it in drawing up a timetable for the nomination. That same meeting shall verify those Co-operative Party members eligible to participate in the nomination procedure. All those eligible to participate in the procedure must be fully paid up members of the Co-operative Party at the "freeze" date for membership.
4. The "freeze" date will be either that date agreed by the Labour Party for Labour Party members or the date of the Co-operative Party verification meeting, whichever is earlier.
5. Where there are four or fewer members of the Co-operative Party Parliamentary panel who have declared an interest to the Labour Party procedures secretary by the due date, all will be invited to the Selection meeting. All Co-operative Party members eligible to participate in the short-listing and selections meetings should be informed that this is the case and that a short-listing meeting will not be required. In this case, the allocation of time for speeches and questions should be decided at the beginning of the selection meeting, subject to an overall time limit of 20 minutes per candidate, and all candidates must then be notified of this immediately after the decision has been taken.

Those qualified to attend the short listing and selection meetings

6. Those qualified to attend the shortlist and selection meetings shall be only those Co-operative Party members resident or registered in the Constituency as verified under these rules, together with the Executive Committee (EC) of the Party Council or Party Council in the absence of an EC.
7. Where no members are resident or registered in the Constituency the EC/Party Council will make the nomination.
8. No person with an interest in the nomination may take part in setting the timetable, the membership verification procedure, the short listing or nomination meeting.

The Shortlist

9. The local Party Secretary must notify those entitled to attend, together with the Branch Chair and Secretary (for information) of the date, time and place of the meeting at which a short list of candidates for interview will be compiled.
10. Except in special circumstances such notice must be in writing and must be issued so as to be received not less than seven clear days prior to the meeting.
11. Notices must point out that those attending must be currently in membership of the Co-operative Party and of a recognised co-operative and that they will be required to provide proof of membership of both.
12. The meeting to compile a short list for interview shall be chaired by the Branch Chair if qualified under rule 6 above . If not present, then members must elect a Chair from those eligible members present. The Branch Chair and Secretary may attend this meeting 'ex officio' but may not participate or vote unless qualified under Rule 6 (above).
13. The NEC Representative will attend the meeting to compile the short list of candidates for interview and will bring an up to date copy of the Co-operative Party's Parliament Panel. Only candidates who are on the Co-operative Party's Parliamentary Panel are eligible for inclusion on the short list for interview. The meeting should fix the allocation of time for candidates at the selection to speak and answer questions, subject to an overall time limit of 20 minutes per candidate.
14. In compiling a short list, members should be informed of any restrictions on eligibility of candidates laid down by the Labour Party but are not bound by them.
15. At least 50% of the candidates short listed must be women.
16. Immediately after this meeting the Secretary must contact each person included on the short list inviting them to attend a Co-operative Party selection meeting and advising them of the time available for speaking and answering questions. Copies should be sent to the NEC Representative.

The Selection Meeting

17. After the closing date for receipt of replies from the short-listed candidates the Secretary should:
 - a) Send notice of the selection meeting to all members eligible to attend.
 - b) Prepare ballot papers for the selection meeting.
18. The Secretary must notify in writing (by post or email) all fully paid up individual members of the Co-operative Party resident within the Parliamentary Constituency concerned, together with those members of the Executive Committee or Party Council entitled to attend. Except in special circumstances, these notices must be received not later than seven days before the date of the Selection meeting.
19. The notices of the meeting should include biographical details of the candidates to be interviewed, if available. They should also remind those invited to attend that at the meeting they will be required to provide proof of current membership of a recognised Co-operative Society.
20. The procedure for the selection meeting with the NEC Representative present throughout, is as follows:
21. Except when they are being interviewed, all the candidates must remain in a separate room to the meeting.
22. A candidate cannot take part in the meeting even if they are qualified to do so.
23. The candidates must be asked to ballot amongst themselves to decide their order of appearance.
24. Arrangements must be made to confirm that that all those present are current members of the Co-operative Party and of a recognised Society.
25. Any member who arrives after the first candidate has started speaking will not be eligible to vote in the selection, and the Chair should stress this fact at the commencement of the meeting.
26. Each candidate may be allowed up to a total of 20 minutes to both address the Conference and answer questions, as determined in accordance with Rule 5 above.
27. After all the candidates have been interviewed the Chair must then ask for a motion to be moved from the floor 'That this Co-operative Party Selection Conference resolves to proceed to ballot'.
28. If this motion is not carried it means that the members feel that none of the candidates are in their opinion suitable for submission to the Labour Party Selection.

29. In this event the Chair should recall the candidates and advise them accordingly. They should then ascertain whether the members desire to arrange a further Co-operative Party Selection meeting to interview a new short list of candidates, and if the decision is in favour of this and the Labour Party selection timetable allows, the NEC Representative will then make suitable arrangements for a further Selection meeting.
30. Should the meeting carry the motion 'That this Co-operative Party Selection Conference resolves to ballot' the Chair must call on the tellers. These tellers, who will act under the jurisdiction of the NEC Representative, must issue to and collect from every member entitled to vote a ballot paper. The tellers and the NEC Representative must count the votes cast and the result should be handed to the Chair to convey to the meeting.
31. Unless there is an overall majority for one of the candidates, the candidate or candidates receiving the lowest number of votes should be declared not selected and the tellers must then issue further ballot papers so that the members can vote on the remaining candidates on the list. Advice regarding second and subsequent ballots will be given by the NEC Representative and these must continue until one of the candidates has received an overall majority of votes. In the event of there being a tie between the two last remaining candidates, a further vote shall be taken and if this also results in a tie the decision shall be by lot.
32. When the meeting has selected one of the candidates by means of these exhaustive ballots the Chair must then ask for a motion from the floor in the following terms:
Resolved – 'That this Co-operative Party Selection Conference nominates (name of successful candidate) to the Labour Party Selection Conference. This motion must be voted upon by a show of hands, the figures being recorded in the minutes.
33. After this has been done the Chair must call all the candidates into the room and without disclosing the actual voting figures should advise them which candidate has been selected by the Co-operative Party Selection Conference. An opportunity should be given for the successful candidate to address the meeting for a few minutes each.
34. Before the meeting terminates the Chair must call upon the NEC Representative to advise members present on steps that they should now take in support of their nominee.
35. It is accepted that it may not be possible for all the short list to attend and this may dilute the 50% quota. So long as every effort has been made to maintain a 50% quota by operating a reserve list of candidates, the Selection meeting may proceed.

Parliamentary By-Election

36. In the event of a Parliamentary by-election, the NEC will determine whether to make an official nomination.
37. The NEC, as far as practicable, shall co-operate with the appropriate Party Council and members resident in the relevant constituency in drawing up a timetable for selection of an official Co-operative Party nominee. This will be in line with procedures above, modified as necessary to meet the circumstances of the particular by-election.

The Nomination

38. After the Co-operative Party Selection Conference has concluded the Secretary and the selected nominee should complete the Labour Party's nomination form in the presence of the NEC Representative. They will also arrange for the letter of endorsement, which is required in the case of official candidates, to be sent direct to the CLP from Co-operative Party Head Office.
39. The nomination form together with the biographical details of the candidate must then be forwarded without delay to the Procedures Secretary of the Constituency Labour Party.
40. In the event of the Co-operative nominee being successful at the Labour Party Selection Conference, full details concerning the additional responsibilities of the Co-operative Party in respect of that constituency will be forwarded to the Secretary of the Constituency Labour Party.

Unofficial Nominations

41. If a Branch wishes to make an unofficial nomination it must first obtain the permission of the Party Council.
42. The procedure for making the nomination is set below.
43. It will be overseen by the Party Council who shall be guided by the appropriate Co-operative Party National Official.
44. No nomination may be made against a sitting MP who is seeking re-selection in a Constituency in which they have a substantial territorial interest.
45. Unofficial nominations to Labour Party Parliamentary selections may be made by those members resident or registered in the Parliamentary Constituency concerned.
46. The Secretary of the Branch should give written notice (by post or email) at least seven clear days before the date at which the nomination is to be considered. Voting shall be by secret ballot. Head Office and the Party Council Secretary should receive a copy of the notice.
47. If the Co-operative Party is affiliated to a Constituency where there are fewer than five members resident or registered, the nomination should be exercised by the Branch or Party Council Executive jointly with those members and in accordance with procedures set out above.
48. The quorum for a nomination meeting shall be five. In the event of a quorum not being present the Party Council shall be informed, and they shall if they so wish make a nomination in accordance with these Rules.

Sitting Official Co-operative MPs

49. A meeting should be convened by the NEC's Representative.

50. The procedures to be used and those qualified to vote as defined above except that the meeting will be asked to consider a motion in the following terms:

The meeting of the Co-operative Party members affirms its support for (...) MP, its Official Co-operative Member in (...) Constituency and resolves that the (...) Branch Co-operative Party nominate him/her as the official Co-operative Candidate to the (...) Labour Party when the selection process commences.

51. After the motion has been formally moved and seconded the sitting MP will be invited to address the meeting for no longer than 10 minutes.

52. The meeting may ask questions of the sitting MP for a further 10 minutes.

53. The meeting will proceed to vote on the motion by secret ballot.

Date

Conduct

As a Party, our co-operative values should be reflected in our actions as well as our policies.

All members should feel welcome and encouraged to participate, in meetings, events and on social media. There is no place in the Co-operative Party for intolerance or abuse.

To enable this, we will:

1. Make meetings and events accessible and welcoming, encouraging maximum attendance and participation
2. Conduct all meetings in a friendly and co-operative way, in accordance with the rules & standing orders and in a manner that enables all views to be heard
3. Not tolerate harassment or discrimination based on age, gender, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, colour, race, ethnic origins or religion, or any form of personal abuse in meetings or on-line.

Statement on Social Media Conduct

The Co-operative Party recognises that social media and other forms of digital communications are a vital part of modern campaigning and communications.

We have an important part to play in political and public debates and a vital contribution to make in discussions about how to create a more co-operative United Kingdom. We should be loudly and proudly making the case for co-operation using all appropriate channels.

We are absolutely clear that the rules of the Co-operative Party apply just as much to activity that takes place on-line as it does to more traditional political activities like Party meetings.

Our co-operative values dictate that we will treat others with respect and not make personal attacks or abusive or intimidating remarks. Individual members not meeting these high standards in their conduct online may be subject to disciplinary action under the Party's Rule Book.

High-profile members of the Party and those holding official positions within the Party including Party Officers, NEC members and elected representatives should be particularly mindful that their conduct online has the potential to reflect on the Party. Views expressed could be interpreted as reflecting the view of the Party even where this is not the intention.

We increasingly encourage local Co-operative Parties and networks to use digital and social media to build support for the Party and our ideas. However, Party Officers responsible for placing such content online must ensure that content is relevant to the work of the Co-operative Party; and that no content is placed on an official Co-operative Party communications channel which could bring the Party into disrepute or that is not consistent with the policy of the Party.

Content on official Co-operative Party social media channels in particular during both internal and external elections and selections must comply with the rules of those elections and selections. Communications using these channels must not be used to promote candidates in internal Co-operative Party elections or to promote Co-operative Party candidates in Labour Party selections unless the individual has been formally nominated as the Co-operative Party's candidate.

Safeguarding

The welfare of children and adults at risk is paramount and it is the responsibility of all staff, volunteers, members and elected representatives to behave with integrity, maturity and good judgement.

Abuse of a position of trust

Staff, members and volunteers, including elected representatives, should be aware that they may be seen as role models by children, young people and adults at risk and therefore they must act in an appropriate manner at all times.

They must not engage in sexual activity or allow a sexual relationship to develop with any member under the age of eighteen years old.

It is essential that staff, volunteers, members and elected representatives do not:

- Conduct a sexual relationship with a child or have any form of sexual contact with a child involved in Co-operative Party activity. Any such behaviour between an adult member of staff, member, volunteer or elected representative and a child involved in Co-operative Party activity represents a serious breach of trust on the part of the staff member, party member or volunteer;
- Physically, emotionally or sexually abuse, maltreat or exploit any child or an adult at risk or neglect their basic physical and psychological needs;

- Exaggerate or trivialise child abuse or the abuse of adults at risk;
- Make sarcastic, insensitive, derogatory or sexually suggestive comments or gestures to, or in front of, children or discuss adult sexual relationships in front of them;
- Rely on their reputation or that of the Co-operative Party or any elected office that they hold to protect them;
- Give or receive gifts and/or substances such as drugs, alcohol, cigarettes, e-cigarettes to or from a child;
- Encourage or appear to encourage children to drink alcohol or take drugs;
- Allow their judgment to be impaired by alcohol or any other substance when acting in a position of trust

Definitions

Child: A person under the age of eighteen years old. The fact that a young person has reached the age of sixteen, is living independently, is in further education, is a member of the armed forces, is in hospital or is in custody does not change their entitlement to protection.

Adult at risk: A person aged eighteen years old or over, who is, or may be, in need of community care services by reason of mental or other disability, age or illness; and who is, or may be, unable to take care of him themselves, or unable to protect him or herself against significant harm or exploitation.

Antisemitism

Party Officers must ensure that meetings and event speaker invitations are carefully considered so that they do not provide a platform for individuals or organisations that are known to hold anti-Semitic views. If you are not sure, please contact Head Office before issuing the invitation to speakers or accepting invitations from other organisations to host joint meetings – we are happy to help or advise.

The Co-operative Party's political representatives are asked to consider very carefully before sharing platforms with individuals or organisations that may hold views that by association could bring the Party into disrepute; and not to share platforms with individuals or organisations that are known to hold anti-Semitic views.

The Party will use the International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance definition of anti-Semitism and the examples that go alongside it to inform decision making about disciplinary cases or in other circumstances in which the Party is called upon to determine whether actions amount, in the Party's view, to anti-Semitism.

'Antisemitism is a certain perception of Jews, which may be expressed as hatred toward Jews. Rhetorical and physical manifestations of antisemitism are directed toward Jewish or non-Jewish individuals and/or their property, toward Jewish community institutions and religious facilities.'

Source: International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance

To guide IHRA in its work, the following examples may serve as illustrations:

Manifestations might include the targeting of the state of Israel, conceived as a Jewish collectivity. However, criticism of Israel similar to that levelled against any other country cannot be regarded as antisemitic. Antisemitism frequently charges Jews with conspiring to harm humanity, and it is often used to blame Jews for “why things go wrong.” It is expressed in speech, writing, visual forms and action, and employs sinister stereotypes and negative character traits.

Contemporary examples of antisemitism in public life, the media, schools, the workplace, and in the religious sphere could, taking into account the overall context, include, but are not limited to:

- Calling for, aiding, or justifying the killing or harming of Jews in the name of a radical ideology or an extremist view of religion.
- Making mendacious, dehumanizing, demonizing, or stereotypical allegations about Jews as such or the power of Jews as collective — such as, especially but not exclusively, the myth about a world Jewish conspiracy or of Jews controlling the media, economy, government or other societal institutions.
- Accusing Jews as a people of being responsible for real or imagined wrongdoing committed by a single Jewish person or group, or even for acts committed by non-Jews.
- Denying the fact, scope, mechanisms (e.g. gas chambers) or intentionality of the genocide of the Jewish people at the hands of National Socialist Germany and its supporters and accomplices during World War II (the Holocaust).
- Accusing the Jews as a people, or Israel as a state, of inventing or exaggerating the Holocaust.
- Accusing Jewish citizens of being more loyal to Israel, or to the alleged priorities of Jews worldwide, than to the interests of their own nations.
- Denying the Jewish people their right to self-determination, e.g., by claiming that the existence of a State of Israel is a racist endeavour.
- Applying double standards by requiring of it a behaviour not expected or demanded of any other democratic nation.
- Using the symbols and images associated with classic antisemitism (e.g., claims of Jews killing Jesus or blood libel) to characterize Israel or Israelis.
- Drawing comparisons of contemporary Israeli policy to that of the Nazis.
- Holding Jews collectively responsible for actions of the state of Israel.

Antisemitic acts are criminal when they are so defined by law (for example, denial of the Holocaust or distribution of antisemitic materials in some countries).

Criminal acts are antisemitic when the targets of attacks, whether they are people or property – such as buildings, schools, places of worship and cemeteries – are selected because they are, or are perceived to be, Jewish or linked to Jews.

Antisemitic discrimination is the denial to Jews of opportunities or services available to others and is illegal in many countries.'

Islamophobia

The NEC has adopted the working definition of Islamophobia recommended by the All-Party Parliamentary Group on British Muslims

Islamophobia is rooted in racism and is a type of racism that targets expressions of Muslimness or perceived Muslimness.

Following the principles used by the International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance (IHRA), the APPG has used guidelines and examples to illustrate the definition:

Contemporary examples of Islamophobia in public life, the media, schools, the workplace, and in encounters between religions and non-religions in the public sphere could, taking into account the overall context, include, but are not limited to:

- Calling for, aiding, instigating or justifying the killing or harming of Muslims in the name of a racist/ fascist ideology, or an extremist view of religion.
- Making mendacious, dehumanizing, demonizing, or stereotypical allegations about Muslims as such, or of Muslims as a collective group, such as, especially but not exclusively, conspiracies about Muslim entryism in politics, government or other societal institutions; the myth of Muslim identity having a unique propensity for terrorism, and claims of a demographic 'threat' posed by Muslims or of a 'Muslim takeover'.
- Accusing Muslims as a group of being responsible for real or imagined wrongdoing committed by a single Muslim person or group of Muslim individuals, or even for acts committed by non-Muslims.
- Accusing Muslims as a group, or Muslim majority states, of inventing or exaggerating Islamophobia, ethnic cleansing or genocide perpetrated against Muslims.
- Accusing Muslim citizens of being more loyal to the 'Ummah' (transnational Muslim community) or to their countries of origin, or to the alleged priorities of Muslims worldwide, than to the interests of their own nations.
- Denying Muslim populations the right to self determination e.g., by claiming that the existence of an independent Palestine or Kashmir is a terrorist endeavour.
- Applying double standards by requiring of Muslims behaviours that are not expected or demanded of any other groups in society, e.g. loyalty tests.

- Using the symbols and images associated with classic Islamophobia (e.g. Muhammed being a paedophile, claims of Muslims spreading Islam by the sword or subjugating minority groups under their rule) to characterize Muslims as being 'sex groomers', inherently violent or incapable of living harmoniously in plural societies.
- Holding Muslims collectively responsible for the actions of any Muslim majority state, whether secular or constitutionally Islamic.

The APPG also lists reported cases to further illustrate ways in which Islamophobia is experienced. These can be seen in the report here.

Regional Officer Group

This document sets out the arrangements for co-ordinating society party councils within an English Region. This model may be used in place of a formal Regional Party.

Introduction

1. The Co-operative Party uses the English regions to fulfil several functions, including for NEC elections, links with the Regional Labour Party and co-operation between society parties.
2. As there are only a small number of decisions made at the regional level, a formal regional party council may not always be appropriate or the best uses of the time and energy of local officers.
3. In these cases, the society party councils may decide to operate a more informal 'Regional Officer Group' with the support of Head Office.
4. The Regional Officer Group will normally meet by phone or make decisions by email, however meetings may also be held in person if required.
5. Regions that use a Regional Officer Group structure will not have a bank account, with payments made by Head Office on behalf of the region and charged to the relevant society parties in proportion to their size.

Members of the Regional Officer Group

6. The Regional Officer Group shall normally be made up of the following:
 - a) the Chair and Secretary of each Society Party within the region;
 - b) the Regional National Executive Committee member;
 - c) the Regional National Youth Committee member;
 - d) the Co-operative Party delegates to the Regional Labour Party Board;
